

At this point, you should start thinking about your own strategies.

Code your own strategy (it could be a very simple one) on the side as you watch the lectures. Use Adeline as a code template and build on top of it.

Don't worry about making it profitable or perfect. The aim here is to learn. Your final trading robot(s) will probably be very different from your first idea anyways.

Cheers,

Lucas